Begin Here.

Questions and associated cards are printed and placed in file folders

The instructor divides the class into groups of 3-4 students.

The exercise is explained and the question folders distributed one per group.

Each group discusses their problem and identify the cues in the text.

Each group determines the which cards are needed to solve the problem(s) and place them in order of use.

The instructor reviews the answers, providing guidance if incorrect. If correct students are instructed to take a photo.,

The instructor provides a new file to the group

The students repeat the process for all remaining files.
