

What Numbers Tell us about Enzyme Inhibition

By Edward Awad

Description:

In this single-class activity, students take the role of an enzymologist tasked to identify the type of inhibitor acting on the enzyme by analyzing the instructor-provided dataset. Through a peer-instruction case study, students learn about enzymes and how they are regulated. See a full description here.

