ETHICS SEMINAR - Teacher copy

Elisapie Sigamou is a 46 year old Diabetic women. She lives in a small village just outside Kuujuaq in Northern Quebec. Elisapie dropped out of school in grade 7 because her mother needed her help at home. She speaks only Inuktitut. She has been flown to Montreal to receive treatment for serious ulcers that have formed on her left foot and toes.

You are the nurse caring for Elisapie today. The Orthopedic surgeon has been consulted to review her case. He arrives at the patient's bedside and explains that the ulcers are too deep and that they have caused too much damage to save her foot and lower leg, he states "this is what happens when you don't follow your prescribed diet." He is concerned about infection spreading up her leg and states that her best option is to have the leg amputated. He produces a consent and asks her to sign the form. She does.

Identify the Problem?

Patient speaks Inuktitut, could not possibly have understood the doctor's explanation.

What is the legal issue?

Consent was not informed - language barrier, lack of information/alternative, no opportunity to ask questions or to weigh alternatives

What would you do?

Suggest that an interpreter be called in to explain the doctors words. Ensure that the patient has all the information concerning the procedure to make an informed decision. Advocacy - nurse has a responsibility to advocate on behalf of the patient to ensure that she has the information that she requires to make an informed decision

Station 3

Word Searches

Bring to your station: Station 3 ETHICS Wordsearch

Envelope for the completed wordsearch,

Stapler

Pen

Folder with wordsearches and clues to hand out

1. Check the clue to be sure they are at the right station (some went to the wrong place)
2. Call out each name on the passport to ensure the entire team is present. If not, they must wait for their teammate
3. When wordsearch complete, take it in. Sign the passport, put sticker, staple the clue to the passport

Only give one copy of the wordsearch to the team. Giving two is confusing because you need to get both copies back and since they spread out in jakes mail, hard to get them back.

All guesses for the blanks on the sentence they must complete after the wordsearch is done must be written down!
Don't accept verbal answers.

Be sure to count up the words when they hand in the document. Some were missing.

Station 4

Clue number 3

Here the "people" lie row by row,
They wait for you to perfect what you know.
They never complain,
They never shout or yell,
They listen to your secrets,
They never show and tell.

Go to the "person" whose face is a mask
In his/her hand you will find your next task

Station 4

What would you do ethics questions?

We used this exercise as an extra station once they arrived in B223 if they were there very early!

You have been studying day and night for the upcoming exam. You are not eating properly and you are tired. You have clinical today and you are exhausted. You have not done your prep work and you have no energy to work on it.

What is the problem?

Not well enough to be at work/ might impair their practice

What is the ethical issue according to the code of ethics?

Competence/ integrity

What do you do?

Call in sick

You have been studying day and night for the upcoming exam. You are not eating properly and you are tired. You have clinical today and you are exhausted. You have not done your prep work and you have no energy to work on it.

What is the problem?

What is the ethical issue according to the code of ethics?

What do you do?

You are part of the Vanier Nursing Facebook group called Vursing. When you log onto your account today you notice that a fellow student has posted a question asking second and third year students what questions they remember from the final exam in Biology.

What is the problem?

What is the ethical issue according to the code of ethics?

What do you do?

You are helping another student get her patient out of bed. The patient falls on the floor and you put her in the chair and your peer does not report the fall as she has no injuries.

What is the problem?

What is the ethical issue according to the code of ethics?

What should you do?

Make pages with two exercises on them and place in the hand of the mannequin/ this way not everyone is completing the same exercise. There is one extra exercise that we used at the final station for "down time" while teams wait for other teams to finish

A student in the class has the answers to the exam and is offering to sell them to his classmates.

What is the problem?

What is the ethical issue according to the code of ethics?

What should you do?

You witness one of your student nurse colleagues taking some stock Tylenol packages from the med cart.

What is the problem?

What is the Ethical issue according to the code of ethics?

What do you do?

A student in the class has the answers to the exam and is offering to sell them to his classmates.

What is the problem?

This is dishonest

What is the ethical issue according to the code of ethics?

integrity: refers to honesty and truthfulness

What should you do?

Do not buy the answers and report this to authorities

You witness one of your student nurse colleagues taking some stock Tylenol packages from the med cart.

What is the problem?

We are not allowed to take medications from the hospital for ourselves/ theft

What is the Ethical issue according to the code of ethics?

integrity

What do you do?

Ask a colleague if they have any Tylenol you can borrow

You are part of the Vanier Nursing Facebook group called Vursing. When you log onto your account today you notice that a fellow student has posted a question asking second and third year students what questions they remember from the final exam in Biology.

What is the problem?

cheating

What is the ethical issue according to the code of ethics?

integrity

What do you do?

report/ speak to the student about your concern

You are helping another student get her patient out of bed. The patient falls on the floor and you put her in the chair and your peer does not report the fall as she has no injuries.

What is the problem?

patient fell and it needs to be reported ASAP so team can follow up on the fall

What is the ethical issue according to the code of ethics?

integrity- concealing an accident/incident

What should you do?

report to teacher and to nursing staff and assist in the follow up regarding the fall/ incident report also must be filed
